Art Unit: 1794

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-15, 18-30, 32-42, 46, 47 and 49-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Goldberg et al (WO 01/47368, pages 4-7, 9-15, 17, 19, 42). Goldberg et al discloses chewing gum including an amount of at least one biodegradable polymer as claimed by applicant (claims 10-12, 33-36, 49) having a molecular weight within applicant's claimed range, and a polydispersity within applicant's claimed range (claims 8,9). The chewing gum is free of non-biodegradable polymers but includes conventional ingredients as claimed by applicant and in the amounts claimed by applicant (claims 14-30, 32, 37-39, 49). The chewing gum is also coated with a coating as claimed by applicant (claims 40-42, 46, 47).

4. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goldberg et al. Finding the optimum amount of flavoring agent (claims 16, 17) would require nothing more than routine experimentation by one reasonably skilled in this art.

Art Unit: 1794

5. Claim 31 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goldberg et al in view of Grijpma et al (5,672,367, col. 3, line 4) or Li et al (6,153,231, col. 7, lines 60-61). It would have been obvious include a medicinal or pharmaceutical ingredient as an active ingredient in the gum of Goldberg et al since such an ingredient is a conventional chewing gum component, as evidenced by either secondary reference.

6. Claims 43-45 and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goldberg et al in view of Meyers (5,433,960, cols. 3 & 9-13 and claims 1, 16, 27). It would have been obvious to coat the chewing gum in Goldberg et al with a coating as claimed by applicant in order to provide storage stability to the chewing gum since it is well known to coat chewing gum products with each of applicant's claimed coating materials in order to achieve this objective, as evidenced by Meyers.

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 1794

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 1-57 are also provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims: 1-62 of copending Application No. 10/472,122; claims 1-54 of copending Application No. 10/472,154; claims 1-67 of copending Application No. 10/528,926; claims 1-64 of copending Application No. 10/528,930; claims 1-20, 22-26 and 28-42 of copending Application No. 10/529,133; claims 1-55 of copending Application No. 10/529,137 and claims 1, 2, 10, 11, 13-18, 24-26 and 28-54 of copending Application No. 11/088,109. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the chewing gum claimed in the claims of each of said applications is merely an obvious variation of the chewing gum claimed by applicant in the instant application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
